yer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much s sickness and suffering is prevented by timely use; and every family should them on hand for their protection and , when required. Long experience has ed them to be the safest, surest, and of all the Pills with which the market nds. By their occasional use, the blood rified, the corruptions of the system exd, obstructions removed, and the whole hinery of life restored to its healthy activ. Internal organs which become clogged sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, stimulated into action. Thus incipient se is changed into health, the value of h change, when reckoned on the vast itudes who enjoy it, can hardly be comd. Their sugar-coating makes them sant to take, and preserves their virtues paired for any length of time, so that are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. ough searching, they are mild, and operwithout disturbance to the constitution or or occupation.

ll directions are given on the wrapper to box, how to use them as a Family Physic, for the following complaints, which these rapidly cure:—

r Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listness, Languor, and Loss of Appe. they should be taken moderately to ulate the stomach, and restore its healthy and action.

r Liver Complaint and its various ptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick adache, Jaundice or Green Sick., Bilious Colic and Bilious Fe., they should be judiciously taken for case, to correct the diseased action, or ove the obstructions which cause it.

r Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one dose is generally required.

r Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, lpitation of the Heart, Pain in Side, Back, and Loins, they should continuously taken, as required, to change diseased action of the system. With such nge those complaints disappear.

r Dropsy and Dropsical Swell., they should be taken in large and frent doses to produce the effect of a drastic ge.

r Suppression, a large dose should be n, as it produces the desired effect by pathy.

a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to mote digestion, and relieve the stomach.

n occasional dose stimulates the stomach bowels, restores the appetite, and invigor the system. Hence it is often advantaus where no serious derangement exists. who feels tolerably well, often finds that ose of these Pills makes him feel decidy better, from their cleansing and renong effect on the digestive apparatus.

Ayer's

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing utation, based on its intrinsic virtues, l sustained by its remarkable cures. mild as to be safe and beneficial to ldren, and yet so searching as to ectually purge out the great corrupns of the blood, such as the scrofus and syphilitic contamination. purities or diseases that have lurked the system for years soon yield to s powerful antidote, and disappear. nce its wonderful cures, many of ich are publicly known, of Scrofula, d all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, ruptions, and eruptive disorders of skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, imples, Pustules, Sores, St. nthony's Fire, Rose or Erypelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, ald Head, Ringworm, and innal Ulcerations of the Uterus, omach, and Liver. It also cures her complaints, to which it would not n especially adapted, such as Drop-, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, eart Disease, Female Weakss, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, en they are manifestations of the ofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health d strength in the Spring. By renow the appetite and vigor of the digese organs, it dissipates the depression d listless languor of the season. en where no disorder appears, people l better, and live longer, for cleansing blood. The system moves on with newed vigor and a new lease of life.

Purely Mutual, Equitable, Progressive and Secure. Twenty-seven years of Business Experience.

Assets, - $21,000,000!

Safely invested and rapidly increasing.

Within the last quarter of a century the business of this Company has embraced the acceptance of over ninety thousand men as members, the receipt of over $[illegible],000,000 in premiums, the payment of nearly $6,500,000 in losses to the representatives of deceased members, and dividends actually returned (not promised) amounting to over $8,000,000 to the assured. At the same time the assets have accumulated and offer absolute security. The present business of the Company is represented in the receipt of ten thousand applications for Policies per annum, and an annual income of over $7,000,000.

All desirable forms of Insurance are granted on the most practical plans, embodying the well-known non-forfeiture feature originated by this Company in 1860.

In addition to the above a new feature has recently been introduced by this company called the "Tontine Investment System," which combines the advantages of the Tontine Annuity and Life Insurance. Upon this new plan it is confidently expected that the dividends will far exceed those now declared by any other Company.

Further particulars in regard to this and all other plans of Insurance will be cheerfully furnished upon application to

THE MODOCS.

From the Kansas City Times.

Col. Robert C. Wood is a small man, but has a history. Gray-eyed, quiet, pleasant to all, he was with Crab in Mexico when only ten got out alive; he was with Shelby before Shelby went into Mexico, and with him there. The Colonel was interviewed by a reporter and said:

In 1855 I was residing in Yreka, Northern California. The Modoc Indians became troublesome, and after ineffectual attempts by the regular troops to subdue them, Capt. Judet, then in command at Fort Jones, Northern California, recommended to Gov. Weller that a volunteer force of mounted men be organized. Gov. Weller accepted the recommendation, and the necessary order was issued to General John D. Cosby to organize a battalion. Six companies of mounted volunteers were recruited, and I was elected major. We went to fighting, not as regular troops, but in such a manner as is necessary to subdue Indians. The Indians were located in a belt of country which lies in Northwestern California. There are several lakes where there are plenty of fish, and the country abounds in game. In the center of one of these lakes was an island, and a portion of them made it their headquarters. They would get into skiffs, pull over to the main land, commit depredations, and then return. We went to work and constructed skiffs and made a raid on the island, and but few made their escape.

I have fought every tribe of Indians from Texas to the Canadas, and with the exception of the Apaches, the Modocs are the most treacherous and irrepressible. If they could not find white people or a neighboring tribe to fight they would fight among themselves on the reservation. The Rouge Rivers in Oregon were a tribe as wicked as the Modocs, and they had to be exterminated, and so it must be with these if the government wishes to have peace. Their devilishness is inherent, but their treachery was made more prominent by an incident which happened a short time previous to the war of which I am speaking. A party of men from Massachusetts, among whom were some from Boston, had a parley with a few of their prominent men on Lost river, and while they were parleying, the Indians were killed. Often have I endeavored to parley with them, but always would they hallo back: "Waka Boston man," which meant "no talk with Boston men." They called all men Boston men, and said that they had lied to them once and would lie again.

STREET LIFE IN DANBURY.

Old Mr. Watson, on Nelson street, has got a nice little bill to pay. He sent a man down town for a pot of paint and a ladder. The man got the paint, and then went to a lumber yard after a ladder. Then he tied the paint pot on the end of the ladder, and put the ladder on his shoulder. This was a very smart arrangement, and the man himself admired it very much. He started for home this way, and didn't find any trouble in getting along the first block, because people had an impression that a long ladder with a pot of yellow paint dangling on the end of it wasn't exactly the thing to trifle with, so they balanced along on the curb stone, or rubbed up against the buildings. Pretty soon the man saw somebody in a store he knew, and he turned round to speak to him, and drove one end of the ladder into a millinery case and knocked the crown out of an eighteen dollar bonnet. Then he backed off in affright, and knocked down two sewing machine agents with the other end. Then he started to turn around, and an old gentleman who was desperately endeavoring to pull his wife out of danger, saw the peril, and shouted out, "Hi, there!" But it was too late. The pot struck against an awning post, tipped to one side, and the entire contents went over the aged couple. This so startled the man that he whirled completely around, smashing in an entire store front, frightening a milkman's team, and knocking over some thirteen persons who were actively dodging about to get out of the way. Then he dropped the ladder and fled into the country, shouting "murder" and "fire" at every jump. A regular ordained painter is now engaged on Mr. Watson's house.—Danbury News.

A recent novel describes a man as "one of the main sleepers of the church" This is thought preferable to the "pillows of the church," especially in the railroad districts.

A not altogether gallant proprietor of an English provincial menagerie, posted up the following notice: "Ladies are requested not to remain stationary in front of the cages. It tires the monkeys.
